

Lecture Entitled "Introduction to Public Shareholding Companies and Its Control Mechanism"

As part of the efforts of Al Falah University to unite theory and practical application, the College of Business Administration organized a lecture in cooperation with the Securities and Commodities Authority under the title "Introduction to Public Shareholding Companies and its Control Mechanism".

During the lecture, Mr. Junaid gave a presentation on the Securities and Commodities Authority (ESCA) and the role it plays in protecting investors by establishing the principles of fair dealing between investors as well as developing investment awareness.

The participants listened to a detailed presentation of the legislation and regulations relating to the licensing and registration of securities and clarification of the difference between public shareholding companies and limited liability companies.

At the end of the lecture, students and the faculty members were encouraged to ask questions. Prof. Khalifa Jaber, Dean of the College of Business Administration presented a certificate of thanks and appreciation for the effort exerted during the lecture.
