

Academic Advising

Al Falah University believes in perfection. For the purpose of academic perfection the Executive Management is taking all the necessary measures to brace the faculty members for the upcoming year. To brief the faculty members with the policies and regulations of academic advising the Vice President of Academic Affairs, Dr. Sameer Al Barghouthi conducted a meeting to develop plans for the academic guidance of students before the start of the new academic year, which is scheduled to begin on September 17, 2016.

Dr. Barghouthi highlighted all the areas where the faculty members could face challenges and provided appropriate solutions for any unexpected issues. Al Falah University has a massive student population and it holds the honor of serving them with unflinching professionalism. The registration and academic advising period is therefore aimed and expected to pass with great success.

Dr. Barghouthi also stressed the need for commitment of all faculty members to the regulation of the Ministry of Higher Education and Scientific Research. For the purpose of cohesion a list of rules in liaison with the directions of MOE were also provided to the faculty members.

Al Falah University has a diverse community of faculty members joining the AFU team from Middle East, Europe and Asia. AFU thus aims to serve the community with the best standard of education.
