

Coursework Assessment

Courses are generally assessed based on a 40% final summative assessment, and 60% ongoing assessment. Some courses, however, are structured differently and assessed accordingly. Final assessments can either be in the form of exams or can be individual projects. Details about assessment strategies in any course are included in the course syllabus.