

Risk Management Committee

Overview

The University's Risk Management Committee administers a structured approach to risk management that identifies and manages, to an acceptable level, the key risks that may adversely affect the University's ability to achieve its mission, goals and objectives. The Committee reports to the Senior University Management regarding the effectiveness of the University's risk management program. The Committee works with the University's Colleges and administration units on continuous improvement of the University's capabilities around managing priority risks.

Responsibilities

The Committee is responsible for reviewing, assessing and monitoring:

- (a) The University's risk management framework, policy, and practice
- (b) The effectiveness of controls and management to an acceptable level in place with particular focus on areas of significant risk
- (c) The internal risk management processes or systems implemented to identify, mitigate, monitor or otherwise manage such risks or exposures; and
- (d) Actual or potential risks that require more active management and actions that might be taken to deal with them
